

Perspex® Product Range

Perspex Vario demonstrating edge-lit properties

Overview:

Perspex has been in the market for over sixty years, and our standard range of clears, opals and solid colours are highly regarded and widely used. Perspex can also be colour matched to virtually any substrate by our in-house laboratory technicians. It is this versatility of colour matching that sets us apart from the competition. Our relatively short lead times from the colour matching stage through to full scale production gives Perspex the flexibility to be used in almost any application.
